The reason why I am making a second post is because I did not have enough time to fit everything together in one singular post, so there are going to be different parts. I will move them to a section where they belong when the time calls for it.

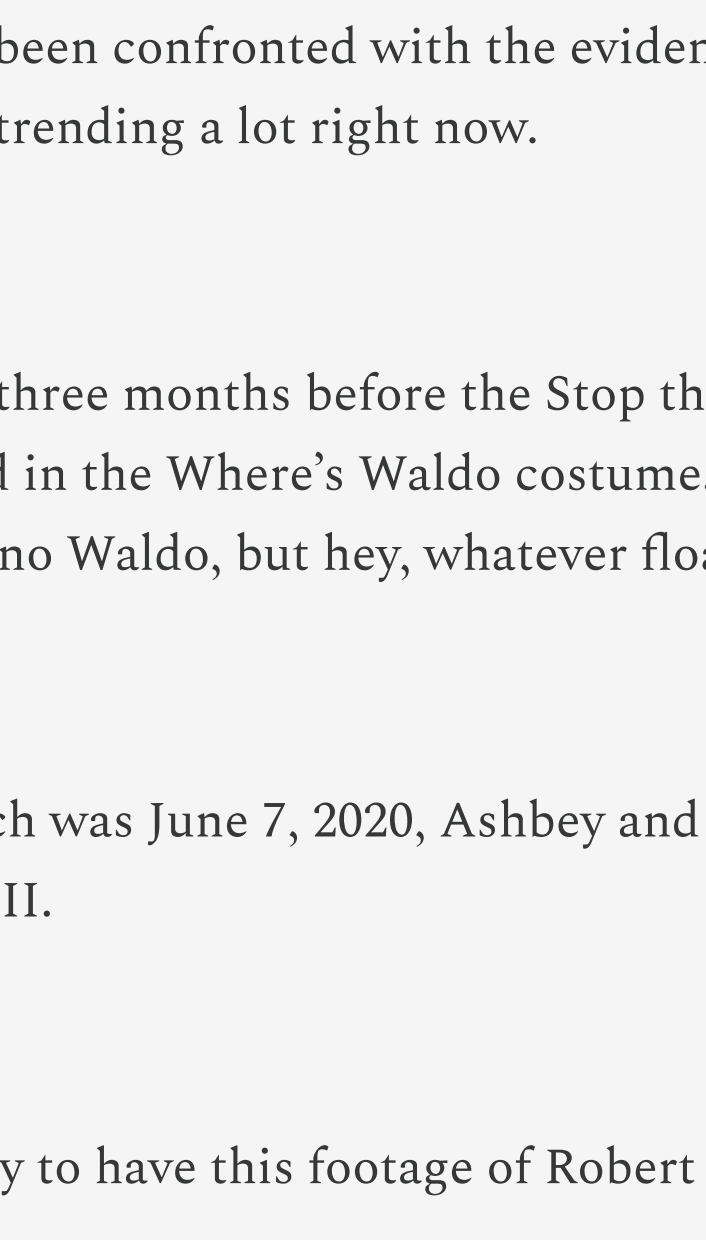

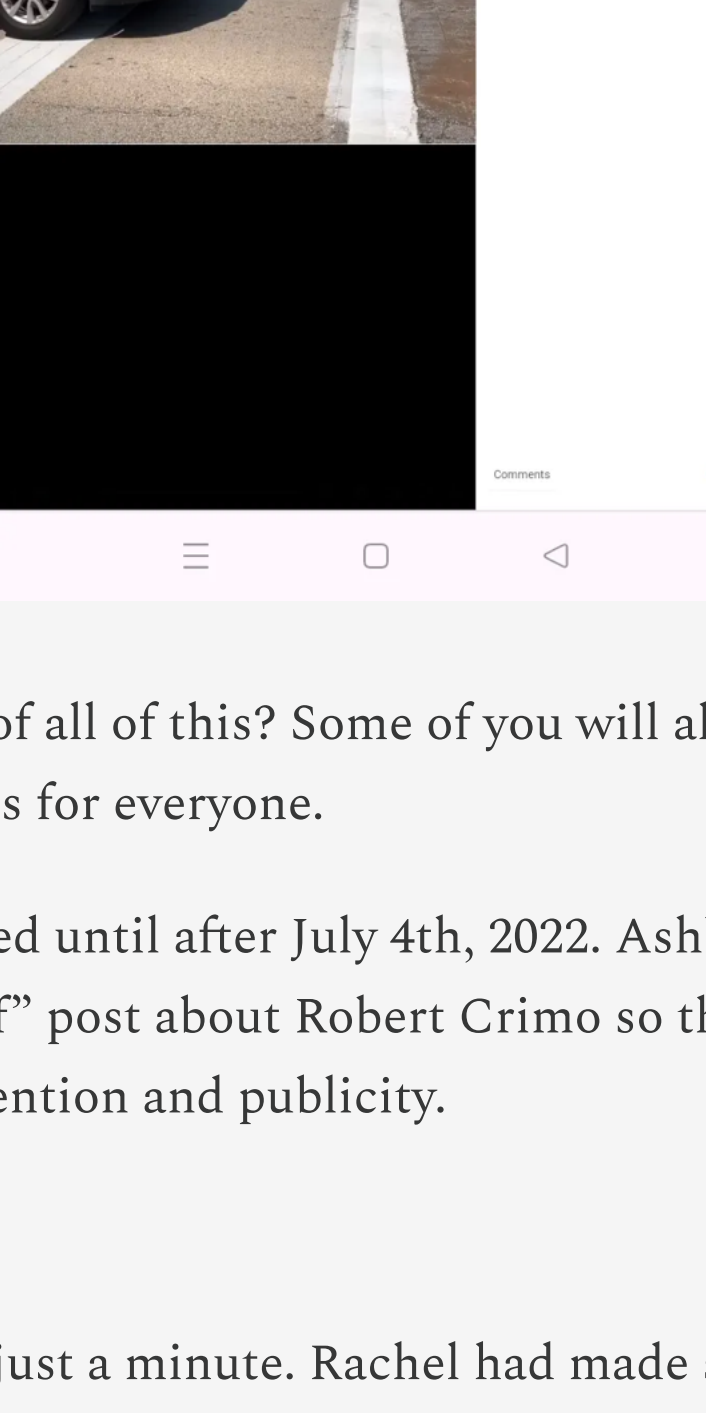

It's time to debunk this one.

Let's start with Ashbey Beasley.

Here is a video of Robert Crimo attending a protest in HP, Illinois, in the summer of June 2020.

Ripped straight from Ashbey's Facebook page.

So what is the entire point of all of this? Some of you will already know, others might not. So let me fill in the gaps for everyone.

These videos were not posted until after July 4th, 2022. Ashbey is here to piggyback off of Rachel's viral "Lone Wolf" post about Robert Crimo so that she can too bask in the glory of the media's full attention and publicity.

Rounding off to Rachel for just a minute. Rachel had made some wild claims on her podcast, with some contradictions allowing her lies to slip through the cracks. Not only that, but she's already been confronted with the evidence to support her claims, but apparently crickets are trending a lot right now.

The video above was taken three months before the Stop the Steal rally in Northbrook, IL, that Bobby would attend in the Where's Waldo costume. There was no Waldo at this point in time. I repeat, no Waldo, but hey, whatever floats your boat, I guess.

At the time of the clip, which was June 7, 2020, Ashbey and Rachel don't know the existence of Robert Crimo III.

It's kind of funny for Ashbey to have this footage of Robert stored on her phone.

And yes. The question that still stands: why is the audio removed? People already know what was said to Robert. He wasn't the one harassing anyone.

Let's talk about what Ashbey didn't post.

the black gentleman with the megaphone screaming directly into Bobby's face, "YOU ARE NOT WELCOME HERE, CRACKER."

"YOU ARE NOT WELCOME HERE, CRACKER."

"YOU ARE NOT WELCOME HERE, CRACKER."

It's quite a sad thing, really.

I'm not sure why that audio has been removed, but Robert's response was, "That is a terrible thing to say to someone. I don't think you'd like it if that were said to you." If the footage hadn't been tampered with and cut off right before the very end,
